SATURDAY APRIL 4, 1908

Here's to the Hawaii! May she win.

In other words, Honolulu does not want to be so thoroughly reformed that its old friends will not recognize the place.

There's always one excellent thing to be said of Tom Watson. As a Presidential candidate he is the most picturesque figure and snappiest talker in the whole list.

May the Governor be able to secure the presence of many citizens of Hawaii at the Governors' conference. There's nothing like having earnest workers at the right place at the right time.

Of course Hawaii needs another District Judge. If this favor is not allowed, some of the litigants are in danger of passing to the great Beyond before they get a decision on their cases.

Millions for defense again has magic force in the United States Congress. Let us give thanks that the power of the phrase is based on common sense rather than serious threat of immediate danger.

Hon. A. L. C. Atkinson is a temperance advocate. So is Jack Atkinson. So are we all of us. Thus when you come right down to the fine point there isn't any difference, anyway. What's all the row about!

Yes, there is much difference of opinion. More reputable citizens of Honolulu have asked the Bulletin to request that Mr. Thwing and his associates keep quiet than have risen up in righteous wrath and urged that the good work go on.

When these men who ride a hobby remark in the kindest manner possible, "Why of course we recognize the right to a difference of opinion," just take a look in their bootlegs to see if they have not knives which they wait only the opportunity to use.

Following John G. Woolley's very pointed remarks concerning the development of Hawaii and Hon. A. L. C. Atkinson's declaration that he is not a prohibitionist, the Anti-Saloon League is either sailing under a variety of false colors or has lost its rudder and is thoroughly at sea.

The final settlement of the McKinley memorial will be a blessed relief to Honolulu. The trustees are to be congratulated on the decision in favor of the school and the statue. Hawaii's memorial will be fully in keeping with the dignity, good character, and energy of the man McKinley.

Andrew Carnegie has more millions for superannuated professors. Right now the people are beginning to wonder whether Carnegie made any of this money by the methods of frenzied finance, and what of the men whose fortunes were wrecked in the gathering of the coin for philanthropy.

London sugar prices dropping a little need not worry you. Hawaii will gain more benefit from a price in the vicinity of four cents, with ordinary plantings. Five-cent sugar starts every farmer in every beet country planting to the full limit, and the high price of this year results in an unusually low one for next.

MR. THWING'S EXPERIENCE.

Mr. Thwing appears to have emerged from his latest agitation thoroughly chastened and a more experienced man.

Forming a hollow square he approached the Board of Health, and found that organization surprised.

Attacking the Federal department, he was referred to Washington.

Canvassing the community, he found that opinions differed widely.

Arriving finally in the County Sheriff's office, he discovered that officer fully in favor of the enforcement of the law, but not likely to act as radically as Thwing would suggest.

Agitating within the Territorial Grand Jury, he found a solid majority against him.

Sending communications to old newspaper friends, it was found that the language was not delicate.

Finally Mr. Thwing, the leading agitator, has brought to this office an expurgated edition of an open letter to the County Sheriff, from which it appears that he finds much difference of opinion, but the County Sheriff is a good man. Presumably only Pinkham is bad.

Now, Brother Thwing, for Heaven's sake, let it go at that!

Honolulu doesn't want your agitation and will not stand for it, notwithstanding the very earnest and honest men with whom you are associated.

There are other matters that may well engage your attention and with which you will gain more practical headway toward raising moral standards of the community.

ANOTHER POPULAR EXCURSION TO

Kilauea Volcano

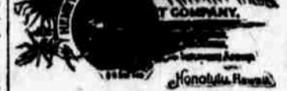

The fine new steamship MAUNA KEA will leave Honolulu Tuesday, April 7th, at noon; returning the party will arrive by steamship MAUNA LOA on Tuesday, April 14th, at daylight.

Fare for the round trip, $51. This excursion allows one day in Hilo, three days at the Volcano, and the circuit of the Island of Hawaii.

A rare opportunity is here offered to see the crater in unusual activity; residents of the district declare it to be the most spectacular eruption in years. The fern and koa forests, the tree moulds and other natural wonders in the neighborhood are most interesting.

Upon the return trip, members of the party who desire, may at a small additional cost, leave the steamer at Napoopoo and drive overland through Kona, again boarding the vessel at Kailua.

For information regarding the trip apply to HENRY WATERHOUSE TRUST COMPANY, Cor. Fort and Merchant Sts., Honolulu.

ADVERTISER VS. PINKHAM.

The morning paper notes in its columns the discovery of an old hen that lays colored eggs.

This gives a very good explanation of the attitude of the paper in its Pinkham misrepresentation.

Every time the old hen cackles about Pinkham, the town knows it has laid a colored egg.

BRIDGE WHIST

Wellesley, Mass., March 21.—Miss Clara M. Howard, professor of rhetoric at Wellesley College, who never "sat in" a game of whist, has issued a statement to the students in which she says:

"The bridge playing fever does not abate. It threatens to become a fixed form of relaxation in college, especially among women who cannot, like their brothers, go out at night to break street lamps and make such like protests against the higher life.

"The rowdiest college boy, however, does not probably spend so much time in his relaxation, as does the quiet, but constant, bridge player in our Wellesley community. When one thinks of an undergraduate's ignorance of the world, how sad it is to contemplate our foolish virgins—playing bridge! Even the emptiest mind must chew on something, and bridge provides a sort of mental chewing gum."

Bridge, according to Prof. Clara M. Howard, of Wellesley, is to the girl college student what stealing signs and breaking street lamps is to the college boy. It is a "mental chewing-gum," an "accomplishment of adeptness," the "last infirmity of empty mind."

It is assumed that Miss Howard is not conversant with the heart convention, the eleven rule, and the lead through. If these be infirmities of empty mind the quality of feminine intellect must be advancing.

But it is somewhat discouraging to see a woman college professor enrolling herself in the ranks of the universal regulators. Do not presidents, chancellors of fresh-water colleges and aldermen suffice to that end? Would Prof. Howard have her pupils always reading Plato?

Bridge, in the opinion of some observers, is an invaluable means of mental relaxation. There is no brooding at the bridge table. The game engrosses the attention to the exclusion of all less serious worries. It calms the mind, quiets the nerves, soothes the passions, stimulates the activity of the brain cells, and fosters politeness through its rigid etiquette.

To deny intellectually to bridge is like imputing levity to the Sphinx. Bridge is a philosophy, a code of social usages, an institution. He who first brought it from the East for the diversion of Western minds gave society a new creed with which to bind it together in closer bonds.

LILLIPUTIANS

There are to be but three more plays presented by the Pollards after tonight's performance. Tonight "The Belle of New York" will be repeated, to be followed on Monday night by "Florodora," and Tuesday night and Wednesday matinee will be "The Geisha Girl."

The last two nights, Wednesday and Thursday, will be devoted to straight vaudeville performances, in which the Pollard aggregation are said to be perfectly at home. There has been a great demand for seats for these two performances, but there are still many left, and those who appreciate high-class vaudeville should get their seats at once.

The Lilliputians are particularly good in vaudeville, and have always made decided hits in this class of theatrical entertainment.

SECOND U.S. JUDGE IS GREATLY NEEDED

Work Enough Now For Two Men And It Is Increasing

The chances seem very good that Congress will give Hawaii a second Federal Judge to assist Judge Dole in the work of his department. In reply to the cable received yesterday by U. S. District Attorney Brockens from Attorney General Bonaparte inquiring as to the need for another judge, a cable was sent this morning by Judge Dole in which he stated that the work makes it essential that another judge be appointed if the work of the department is to be kept up to the mark. He stated that there are now thirty criminal cases pending, and enough civil business to occupy him for from six to nine months. Judge Dole stated also that the trial of cases in this Territory takes twice as long as in the States on account of the necessity of using an interpreter.

Governor Frear also sent a cablegram urging the need for another Federal Judge.

Judge Dole stated this morning that he has more work to do now than can be taken care of properly. It is the intention of the law that a person accused of a crime shall be given a speedy trial and his guilt or innocence established as soon as possible. But on account of the large number of criminal cases it is impossible to try all of them as soon as they should be tried.

The work of the Judge in admiralty is also very heavy. He now has on his desk the evidence in several cases, some of which was taken over a year ago, which he has not had time to decide. As some of these cases run as high as 2,000 pages of testimony, it is evident that much time is consumed in arriving at a decision in them.

In addition to this, the work of the Federal Judge, is constantly increasing. Many counterfeiters have been captured and tried during the past year, and the enforcement of the Edmunds Act entails much labor and consumes a great deal of time.

It is understood, is considering the advisability of putting upon the statute books an anti-gambling law, and if it should be necessary to enforce that in Hawaii, the work of the court would probably be nearly doubled. There is work enough here now, says Judge Dole, to keep two judges busy.

It is the idea, if Congress gives Hawaii a second U. S. District Judge, to have both sit in Honolulu, there being only one court, over which the two judges shall preside in turn. Nearly all the work of the court is confined to Honolulu and there is no necessity of having either of the judges located in any other town or island.

Judge Dole states that a bill was introduced some time ago by Delegate Kuhio providing for a second U. S. District Judge, and this bill has been before the committee for some time. The receipt of the cablegram last night is taken as meaning that some of Hawaii's friends in Congress are actively interesting themselves in the matter.

IWIWI AGITATORS ARE TURNED DOWN

The Iwiwi matter is, so far as the Territorial Grand Jury is concerned. The efforts of those who have been stirring up the evil mess to have the Grand Jury take action have failed, as it was predicted they would, and the inquisitors, by their refusal to give anything to do with the matter their tacit approval, at least, to the way Iwiwi is now handled by the Board of Health and the police.

The matter was referred by the Grand Jury to a sub-committee, which has been investigating it thoroughly. Yesterday this sub-committee made its report, stating, it is understood, that there were no grounds for action, and recommending that none be taken. So, unless the Sheriff orders the district closed up, which is considered improbable, it is apparent that conditions will remain as they are now.
